Rooms are assigned by lottery. We cannot guarantee that you will receive your choice of room or building. Please indicate your first, second and third room preference. Please ensure that you make three different choices. Failure to make three choices will result in the computer program making the choices for you. There are no guarantees for room placements.

SOUTHWEST RESIDENCE LOTTERY: Residency for first-year students in the Southwest Residence is limited and extremely competitive. There are only 40 spaces available: 20 for males and 20 for females.

Space for first-year students in Southwest is limited to Learning Skills floor options only.

Two Learning Skills Floors are available to first-year students. Special residence activities and programs will be designed for both of the learning skills communities. Students with an admission average of 85% or higher can apply to live in these suites.

To be considered for placement in Southwest, you must check one of the boxes below. You will still need to select your three room preferences for the main lottery.

Leadership Development Floor - Students with a demonstrated interest in leadership will benefit from participating in special programming and working with professionals and current student leaders to enhance their leadership skills.

Advanced Writing and Research Skills Floor - Students will have the opportunity to work with a group of writing skills professionals, senior students, faculty, and library staff to develop and deepen their writing and research skills.

In an effort to make the room assignment process as fair as possible and still allow applicants to have equal access to the full lottery, a random lottery for Southwest will be run separately. If you wish to be considered for the Southwest lottery and meet the criteria for the Lifestyle floors, please check the box below. The lottery program will only consider those applicants that meet the criteria.

If you are unsuccessful in the Southwest lottery, you will still have three preferences in the full lottery. There are no guarantees for specific placements in either the Southwest lottery or the full lottery.
